

Clarence Bentley Resigns Position

Clarence Bentley, who has been head of the commercial fraud section of the District Attorney's office for thirty-three months, has resigned.

Bentley advised Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, for whom he has been an assistant, that he would become associated in general law practice Friday with Richard Shults and Edwin Nesbitt at 916 Kirby Building.

The firm now will be known as Shults, Nesbitt and Bentley.

In the District Attorney's office Bentley handled forgery, check swindling, embezzlement and other commercial fraud cases. A native of Eddy, McLennan County, Bentley has the law and Bachelor of Arts degrees from Baylor University in Waco and the Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Southern Methodist University.

Before he became associated with the District Attorney's office, Bentley was in private practice here. He and Mrs. Bentley live at 7706 Eastern.
